DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments filed 3/17/03 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that there is no second axis of rotation for the periscope style viewer 300 disclosed by Smith. Examiner disagrees and notes that the actual housing of the viewer 300 is the first platform, which can be revolved around an X-axis, and that the pole 308 is the second platform, which can be revolved around a Y-axis. Examiner also notes that the SeeCoast and Hi-Spy Coin Operated Binoculars also provide the limitations in claims 25 and 27.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 25 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Smith (U.S. Patent No. 5,153,716).

Referring to claim 25, Smith discloses a display mounted on a first platform (element 302 in Figure 15) rotatable about a first axis (element 308 in Figure 15 and Column 10, Lines 63-66), said display having hand grips (element 30 in Figure 15) for use by a user in placing hands thereon (see user in Figure 14).

Smith also discloses a second platform within which said first platform part is rotatably mounted for rotation about a second axis (see pole that element 300 rotates around in Figure 14).

Referring to claim 27, Smith discloses viewports (element 302 in Figure 15).

Allowable Subject Matter

2. Claims 1-24, 26, and 28-31 are allowed as indicated in the previous Office Action.

Conclusion

3. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
